

Oh, Hashem

Unedited version

Where do I belong
There must be a home for me
I'm searching for some place to go
Where I can find serenity.
If there's not a song,
A melody so clear
And when I sing it to myself,
It takes away my fears.

And even though I'm not that strong,
Please help me find where I belong.

MALKY'S LYRICS BEGIN HERE:

Hashem, please help me fly
And soar through the sky.
I want to know what everything
Is about in Your world,

But sometimes it's dark
But I know You're by my side
So I'm not scared at all.

I just say
Oh thank you Hashem
For today.

Oh...

I feel like I don't fit
Into anything
Everybody stares
When I'm sick like me.
But I know Hashem wanted it
To be just like this.

So I say, "Thank you, Hashem
For every day and every night."

Thank you, Hashem!
I know you want the best for me
And I'll take the test,
Whatever it takes to make me better
I'll fly so high, I'll reach sky
I'll past the test, and I'll be free
I'll be free.

Oh Hashem, thank you for my life.
For everything you planned
'Cause I know you planned the best for me
And that, I know, is the best.

Sometimes I am scared,
Sometimes I don't like when I am all alone,
And it makes me oh so frightened.

Oh Hashem, I love you
I wish everything could be just like that
Just like that.

And I want You to believe,
That I love you very much,
Because you give me special touch.
Thank you Hashem, Thank you Hashem,
Again and again.

Thank you for my life and my test,
Cause I know that it's the best,
For me and the fleet
Once the test is over,
I know that I'll be o.k.

Oh, Hashem

Unedited version

Oh Hashem, thank you for everything
Even the test,
Because I know you chose the best for me,
And I know that it's better,
Better, better than the rest.

Oh Hashem, thank you for everything.
I wish you would understand.
But you do.

And I know you,
Because you understand my pain.
You even feel it inside your heart.
You feel it inside everything.
In bodies You're smart.
You made me such a difficult way
That is very good.
The feet, and hands, and nose, and mouth,
And eyes to see everything.
Thank you for making me look.
Thank you for making me talk.
Thank you for making me see and smell,
And even to feel well.

Oh Hashem, I love you.

You're my best.
I love you!
I love you!
'Cause you know what's the best.
Better than the rest.
Better than the rest.

You know how I feel when I'm sad.
You know how I feel when I'm glad.
You know how I feel when I'm mad.

You know how I feel when I'm excited.
You know how I feel when I'm everything together.
You know how I feel when I'm happy.
You know how I feel when I'm mopsy.

Oh Hashem, you know how I feel,
every single second of the day
So why not I say,
Thank you today!
Thank you today!
Thank you today!
Thank you today!

Oh Hashem, I love you tons,
Oh Hashem, You make everything so easier
for me,
Oh Hashem, I love you so much!

I could soar through the sky,
I could fly like a bird,
Oh Hashem, I love you,
I want to hug you,
Oh I love You.
You feel everything that I feel today.
Oh Hashem, Oh Hashem
I love You.
Everything that I feel and I know I'm probably near you very close or maybe not.

Oh Hashem, Oh Hashem,
I love You!!
